

SEED STARTER SATURDAY

May 4 @ 11 am

Join University of Illinois Extension Master Gardeners to start vegetable seeds to transplant in your garden. In an effort to end local hunger and get more fresh produce in local food pantries, we are asking local gardeners to plant an extra row of fruits or veggies to donate to a local food pantry. Start the seeds for these plants at the library and learn more about how you can donate the produce from your plants to the food pantry at Old Stone Church. All materials will be provided, just join us on the lawn to plant some seeds to take home.
